In Things Old and New, published in 1898, we find a letter written by Mr. Floyd W. Tompkins, the Pioneer of the village of Rutherford, in which he tells us that on April 2d, 1858, he removed with his family to a little farm of twenty-five acres which he had bought, and on which stood a small stone house. Shortly after this he purchased seventy-five acres more on what is now Union Avenue, and had it surveyed and a map made of Villa sites at Boiling Springs, New Jersey. This was the beginning of the village, although a station had been established here ever since 1832, when the New York and Paterson Railroad was...
