Dr. Langenbeck, who superintended the tests, expressed the opinion that, mixed with a little flint, it would not require high heat, and would make very pretty cream-colored ware. The dark color of these clays seems to be due to the vegetable matter, which burns out, leaving a greyish mass. The alkali percentages are about what are found in the other clays, while that of the iron in the specimen from the Paris Bridge, near Murray, is very large, showing itself as a yellow ochre in the cracks and seams in the clay. The amount of lime is very small. This clay is evidently at the top of the Lagrange-Tertiary and at the base of two to ten feet of Brown Loam and Lafayette Gravel. James Julian cy Placc.--This land is located near the Mayfield and Murray Road, eight miles...
